WHY TRAIN WITH BELL?

We continue to follow the vision of our founder, Frank Bell, who believed in the power of language to transform lives and the world. Our heritage means we have always had education at the heart of everything we do, and in over 60 years we have never compromised on that.

TRAINEE TO ADVANCED AND EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN

Bell trains teachers throughout their career, from becoming a teacher and gaining a CELTA, to becoming an advanced practitioner, teacher trainer, or an academic manager with Delta. At Bell Teacher Campus we have a full range of development courses and cater for all levels and interests. We also run bespoke teacher training projects for groups all over the world.

Bell Teacher Campus at Homerton College, University of Cambridge

OUR LOCATIONS

Cambridge is one of the most famous cities for learning in the world. Bell Teacher Campus is held in the beautiful Homerton College, a University of Cambridge college. CELTA courses are held in our impressive Bell Cambridge school, set in its own large grounds, and at Bell London in the heart of the capital. For Delta students and our bespoke teacher training projects, you can choose between visiting us in Cambridge or learning in your own country. Delta students can also choose to learn completely online.

SERGIO

SPAIN

I chose to study at Bell because of its reputation for teacher development. I have been taught by highly motivating tutors here and I'm going back to my classroom with lots of techniques to improve language skills.

OUR EXPERTS

Bell only employs the very best teacher trainers. Bell experts give talks at industry-leading events, with nine Bell speakers at IATEFL UK in both 2016 and 2017. Many of our teacher trainers are also published authors. Our Head of Teacher Development, Silvana Richardson, has worked in English language teaching for over 25 years and gives talks to huge audiences in many countries.

CARLA

At Bell, I found a really deep cultural learning environment which made me excited to go back to work and put it all into practice! As teachers, we have to keep learning so we can engage our students and teach more effectively.

WE ALWAYS KEEP LEARNING

Bell has been teaching for over 60 years. We teach students of all ages and abilities, across a full range of courses. From our English-speaking nursery in Switzerland with students starting aged two, to our University Pathways programmes that prepare international students for top universities in the UK. Decades of practical experience inform our methods and our teacher training courses.

WE PRACTICE WHAT WE TEACH

Our experts are at the forefront of research in English language teaching. Many of our teacher trainers are published authors of well-known coursebooks, and many more contribute to industry journals such as Modern English Teacher. We believe in continuous professional development. There is always something new to learn.

OLGA

KAZAKHSTAN

I really enjoy the quality of education at Bell, that's why I keep coming back. My first course was CELTA, the second was Contemporary English and the third one is CLIL. The next one will be Becoming a Teacher Trainer.

MAKING OUTSTANDING THE NORM

Bell trainers create high expectations and engagement. We challenge each teacher we teach to perform beyond their expectations, enabling them to excel. We expect our teachers and trainers to be the best in their field. We provide regular feedback and development opportunities and film the best lessons to share and inspire others.

HELPING TEACHERS TO LEARN EVERYWHERE

Bell trainers maximise formal and informal learning opportunities. We provide a range of social and cultural activities to help teachers develop their learning outside the classroom. We help teachers develop their skills through the use of well-stocked learning centres, learning technology and regular self-study assignments.

#mybellstory

KARINE

GUADELOUPE

The courses at Bell and the opportunities to meet so many people are really rejuvenating for the mind. There's so much choice – cultural talks, social outings – and I particularly enjoyed the plenary session on pronunciation and the workshop on how the English speak.

SHARING CLEAR LEARNING AIMS AND OUTCOMES

Bell trainers have clear, consistent learning goals and teaching methods. We make the aims of each session and activity clear in a way that inspires and engages teachers, and measure progress against these aims. We monitor quality through our own standardised, teaching observation system, designed by Bell's team of experts and praised by educational inspectors.

USING FEEDBACK TO IMPROVE TEACHING AND LEARNING

Bell trainers use assessment and feedback to help teachers develop their individual skills. We help teachers assess their own work and show them what they have to do to take their teaching to the next level. Reflection by teachers on their own practice is a key component of all our teacher training programmes.

BELIEVING IN THE IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION

Bell teacher trainers continuously refresh and renew their professional skills to support effective learning and teaching. Bell's 2015 report from the Independent Schools Inspectorate praised our "culture of continuous improvement". We have considerable experience in Action Research and a research partnership with the University of Warwick. Many of our trainers are conference speakers, researchers, webinar presenters and published authors.

ADAPTING LEARNING TO EACH INDIVIDUAL

Bell trainers find out about each teacher's ambitions and capability, and build from there. We are experts in working with teachers of different needs and cultures and offer different levels of challenge to each, based on their needs, goals and context. We run programmes for teachers of every age and stage of experience and frequently welcome back returners on the next step of their journey.

OUR EXPERTS

Bell has been teaching for over 60 years and we constantly strive to develop the very best teaching methods. We love learning and are at the forefront of research into language teaching. Many of our experts are published authors and speak at events all over the world. Here are just a few of our experts.

Find out more about all our experts at bellenglish.com/our-teacher-trainers

EMILY

UK

I think that the fact we have access to a busy language school is fantastic. We get the opportunity to observe real classes, work with a variety of students and the quality of the course is very high.

THIS COURSE IS FOR:

People who want to start their career as an English language teacher and have the opportunity to teach anywhere in the world. You may be a new graduate, you may want to change your existing career or you may want to travel.

This course is also suitable for those with some teaching experience who do not yet hold the CELTA qualification.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Certificate in English Language Teaching to Adults (CELTA) is the most highly-regarded and widely-recognised initial qualification for English language teachers globally. The CELTA is accredited by Cambridge English Language Assessment, part of the University of Cambridge.

CELTA is a four-week assessed course which focuses on practical skills, introducing you to hands-on teaching experience straight away.

This highly intensive, practical course includes:

- Practical workshops and seminars: there are 120 contact hours in the course including workshops and seminars which focus on language awareness, phonology, language learning, teaching methodology and professional development.
- Teaching practice and feedback: you will teach six hours of classes attended by volunteer adult learners of English. In a feedback session you will discuss the lessons taught and receive individual verbal and written feedback from tutors.
- Observation: you will observe a minimum of six hours of classes of experienced teachers (this may include two hours of audio material).
- Lesson preparation: lesson preparation is initially supervised by the course tutors, but you are encouraged to work more independently as the course progresses. By the end of the course you should have a basic toolkit which allows you to teach effectively in an EFL classroom.

REAL TEACHING EXPERIENCE

CELTA is taught in our schools, so you will become immersed in a real teaching environment. Teaching practice takes place in our classrooms, with enthusiastic people from the local community that want to improve their English (Bell offers all lessons with trainee teachers free of charge to students).

All teaching and learning resources for the course are provided, including stationery for teaching practice and books for your written assignments from the Learning Centre. You will also have access to photocopiers, computers, and printers, and will be given training in how to use interactive whiteboards. You will have access to a wide range of facilities at our schools, including a dedicated CELTA classroom.

FRANCE

I think it is important to study a full-time course, so you are immersed in the learning. I used to be a teacher in France and I had never been taught how to teach. No-one other than students came into my classroom. It's scary to be watched, but it's how you really learn to teach. The course is a rare opportunity to see teaching, analyse teaching, and be critiqued on your own teaching.

DEVELOP YOUR SKILLS: BELL TEACHER CAMPUS

TAKE THE TEACHING KNOWLEDGE TEST (TKT)

Choose to take the TKT at Bell Teacher Campus and gain an internationally recognised qualification, awarded by Cambridge English, part of the University of Cambridge. Free exam preparation for the TKT is provided. There is only a small admin fee of £38 to take the exam, which includes postage of the certificate.

THE LOCATION

Homerton College is steeped in history, dating back to the late 17th century. This University of Cambridge college is a mixture of old and new buildings set in private spacious gardens, within walking distance to the famous Botanic Gardens and Fitzwilliam Museum. The Cambridge city centre is a 25 minute walk or a 10 minute bus ride — or you could rent a bicycle to travel like a local.

You can explore the city with other teachers, visit the many museums and go to one of the many outdoor cultural events over the summer such as 'Shakespeare in the park'. There are a host of activities held on campus too. Homerton College is located close to Cambridge train station for easy access to nearby cities including London.

FUNDING FOR YOUR COURSE

If you are a teacher in Europe ask your institution if they can apply for Erasmus+ funding to cover the cost of your course. All Bell teacher development courses are eligible.

EMILY

UK

Studying for the Delta online is great because it gives you the freedom and flexibility to fit the reading around other commitments.

The new Delta online learning platform

ADVANCED PRACTITIONERS: DELTA

Stand out from the crowd with the highest qualification for English language teachers.

THIS COURSE IS FOR:

Teachers who want to progress their career in English language teaching and become advanced practitioners. Teachers must have passed their CELTA qualification at least one year previously and have two or more years teaching experience.

A Delta will advance your career, allowing you to move into senior roles such as Director of Studies or Teacher Trainer.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Delta (Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other languages) is a globally-recognised, advanced qualification for experienced English language teachers. It combines practical teaching elements with a strong theoretical background.

Module One: Understanding language, methodology and resources

Choose to study at Bell Cambridge (full-time, 2 weeks) or online (part-time, 14 weeks)

You will learn about:

- Practical theory and methodology needed for teaching a range of lessons
- Teaching approaches and learning in a range of contexts
- Applied linguistic sources on the main principles and practices of English language teaching.

Module Two: Developing professional practice

Choose to study at Bell Cambridge (full-time, 6 weeks) or online (part-time, 13 weeks)

You will develop your teaching skills by:

- Focusing on awareness and expertise in professional practice in a range of contexts
- Intensive guidance on your practical teaching
- Assessed teaching practice (in Cambridge or in your own country by a Regional Delta Tutor).

Module Three: Developing English language teaching specialism

Online (11 weeks)

Extend your teaching practice through:

- Selecting a specialism
- Focusing on syllabus design, testing and assessment
- Focusing on needs analysis, diagnostic testing and planning a course.

You can also choose to study the Module Three ELT Management option with Bell.

All modules are accredited by Cambridge English, part of the University of Cambridge.

FLEXIBILITY

You must pass all three modules to be Delta qualified, but there is no time limit for completing all three modules, so you can work at your own pace. The modules are booked and paid for individually, so this can be spread out too. Even if you have completed a module with another school, you can still study with Bell for your remaining modules.

A BELL DELTA INCLUDES:

- Full access to our new Bell Delta learning platform
- Exam guides, course documents, chat rooms and videos
- Forums with peer support and encouragement from other teachers
- Tutor support at every stage with detailed individual feedback on every task
- We arrange and book your place for your exams
- Special delivery of your certificate (you will need to sign for it)
- Free travel insurance covering your trip if you are travelling to the UK from abroad.

THAILAND

I have improved my teaching skills in two weeks. I have learnt how to correct errors in a better way for the student and have learnt how to introduce activities in the classroom. I think Bell is special because it is so well-organised, with special staff and the courses cover everything. When I get back to Thailand I will make activities for students and be able to talk about British culture from direct experience.

KUNG

THAILAND

It's special studying with Bell as it's very different from my country. We've had new experiences and have new knowledge. We have all improved together. When you are in a group, you can learn together and share ideas. You learn good teaching habits altogether. During our two week stay, we have visited Windsor, which was amazing, Canterbury, and went punting in Cambridge, which is relaxing and you can learn the history.

GROUP EXPERIENCE: TRAINEE TEACHERS FROM THAILAND

19 trainee teachers from Udon Thani Rajabhat University in Thailand, with two group leaders, visited Bell Cambridge for a teacher training programme designed especially for them. The programme shared Bell teacher techniques and the teachers experienced activities and trips that would allow them to talk to their own students about British culture.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES:

- To give the teachers greater confidence when teaching
- To introduce the teachers to a wide variety of teaching techniques, including: classroom management, researching language for classroom use, teaching grammar effectively, teaching vocabulary, lesson planning, using film and technology, dealing with error, evaluating materials, syllabus planning, presentation into practice and observations of experienced teachers.

AREIJ

LIBYA

On the TKT course at Bell, I've learnt lots of practical techniques for kindergarten and primary learning using activities and pair work. The environment here makes you eager to learn; there are so many opportunities to improve yourself and the staff are very helpful.

DEVELOPING TEACHING METHODOLOGY IN LIBYA

We created a bespoke programme for a group of secondary school teachers from Libya, who visited Bell Cambridge to develop their language skills, learn new teaching methodology and prepare for the Teaching Knowledge Test (TKT).

The intensive programme included lectures, workshops, group tasks, lesson observations and individual tutorials, which gave each teacher the opportunity to focus on individual areas for improvement.

ENHANCING ENGLISH TEACHING SKILLS IN CHINA

We have worked with a variety of partners in China to enhance and improve the teaching of English to children of all ages. Projects include:

- The opening of kindergartens in Hangzhou in partnership with the Qian Jin Education Group. Bell experts trained local staff and worked with them to develop a curriculum based around the UK's Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS). We continue to work with more partners on new kindergarten projects in China.
- A two-week training and development course for primary teachers, as part of a long-term framework for the Nanjing Education Bureau.
- A showcase of English language teaching methodologies to over 400 primary and secondary school teachers, principals and officials at a conference in Foshan, which encouraged participants to discuss innovation in education at a regional level.

CREATE A UNIQUE COURSE TO MATCH YOUR STUDENTS' GOALS

Bell designs group courses for all ages and abilities, including offering academic subjects taught in English (CLIL courses). Speak to our groups team and they will work with you to create your perfect course. Every aspect of the course can be tailored for your class, from the lessons and timetable to the trips and activities.

IDEAL LOCATIONS

Our schools are in the most prestigious places in the UK, surrounded by culture to explore. Our four young learner schools are all traditional historic English buildings set in their own gardens and grounds in famous locations close to London. Our adult Cambridge school is a stunning campus, set within its own large gardens, with impressive study, social and leisure facilities. Bell London is in the heart of the city with all the capital has to offer.

JOIN US AT ANY TIME OF YEAR

Many young learner schools are only open in the summer, but we have our own young learner school open all year round, in addition to our summer schools. You can bring a group to Bell St Albans at any time of year. Our English 16+ schools, Bell Cambridge and Bell London, are also open all year.

DEDICATED GROUPS TEAM

Led by the Head of Group Sales, Maria Pia Salcito, who has been at Bell for over 14 years, the groups team work with academic staff to ensure the perfect experience for your group. You will receive gold standard personalised service from the moment you start planning and throughout your stay.

TEACHER FROM ARGENTINA

We like bringing our students to the UK as they get to explore England, be in contact with native English speakers and connect with children from different countries. At Bell, the students are challenged. They gain lots of new skills such as independence and take part in fun activities including archery and cooking and are exposed to British accents, which helps their pronunciation. We are immersed in an English environment, learning the language through projects and study tours, which is very entertaining and wonderful for us as a method of learning. I'm very happy and I hope to keep coming here for many years.

I took up my dream to build up my own company and teaching English is the core of that business. To be taken seriously, I need my CELTA. It is incredibly intensive, but it is so much fun being all together in a classroom. We support each other. The teachers are very open, responsive and enthusiastic. You pick up a lot of things just by being here. You are like a sponge, soaking up the good teaching.

FRANK BELL

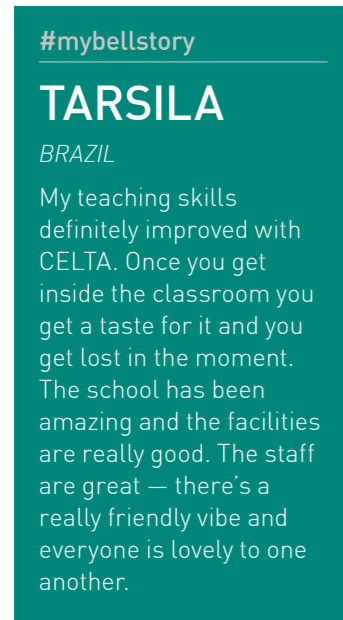

OUR BELL STORY

We continue to follow the vision of our founder Frank Bell, a University of Cambridge graduate, who believed in the power of language to change lives and transform the world.

Frank started a 'secret university' teaching languages during his time as a prisoner of war in World War II and became convinced that the route to international cooperation lay in learning.

He opened the first Bell language school in Cambridge in 1955.

Our heritage means we have always had education at the heart of everything we do and in over 60 years, we have never compromised on that.

TARSILA

My teaching skills definitely improved with CELTA. Once you get inside the classroom you get a taste for it and you get lost in the moment. The school has been amazing and the facilities are really good. The staff are great — there's a really friendly vibe and everyone is lovely to one another.
